ABOUT ME

Originally from Spain. Currently undergraduate student at the University of Seville taking part in a program to receive both a Mathematics and a Statistics Bachelor of Science, these being one of Spain's most competitive programs. For this year in an exchange year at the University of Warwick.

My interests lie mainly in statistical inference and forecasting, as well as supervised and unsupervised learning. High achiever, and critical thinker, with a numerical and quantitative mindset, attentive to detail, and very data driven.
